

RRP (Revenue Referral Program)

Increase your business revenue using the Rem0del.com multi market network.

As a general construction services provider we have referred or directed our clients to all types of business in the real estate sector including architects, brokers, mortgage providers, lenders, insurance adjusters, appraisal companies, attorneys, engineers and even in some case sub contractors. Most of these business referrals are provided without financial benefits. The general business approach to these referrals is, it's not my business so I'm not interested, don't have the time nor want the liability. However, as we all know referrals the the most successful venue for new business opportunities. Rem0del.com has filtered this referral opportunity using our efficiency revenue strategy business model and developed a multi market RRP (revenue referral program). By prescreening all members rem0del.com has eliminated the liabilities that come with a referral and created a new revenue opportunity for your business. Our members can safely generate additional revenues that come from a welcomed business provider without the liabilities of the "recommendation". The RRP offers any business the opportunity to help their clients connect with multi industry businesses safely while increasing untapped business revenue sources. Members of our RRP will not only generate additional referral business revenue, as a member you will increase the activity of your business by receiving these multi market referrals, the best "new business" source available.

Our RRP membership welcomes all business in the real estate and construction industry. This includes but not limited to:

Appraisal service providers, Architects, Engineering companies, Financial lenders,
General contractors, Home and garden retail centers, Home improvement retail centers,
Interior designers, Kitchen and bath showrooms, Mortgage providers,
Property management providers, Real estate attorneys, Real estate brokers,
Real estate developers , Real estate investors, Furniture suppliers and many others.

For more information please call us at 888-214-7090 or email us at RRP.rem0del@gmail.com

ERP (efficiency revenue program)

Kitchen and bath showrooms:

If you are an independent retail kitchen and bath showroom business owner and want to increase your profits from the existing business operations without any additional investment. The Rem0del.com RSERP (retail showroom efficiency revenue program) will allow your business to substantially reduce the monetary requirements that are attached to your showrooms installation, construction, equipment, warehousing, liability insurance and all other business expenses associated with the construction industry. Rem0del.com has developed the RSERP (retail showroom efficiency revenue program). As a member of our RSERP you can spend all your time efficiently focusing on locating and contracting new business without the time consumption and financial requirements needed to operate a construction business. Rem0del.com will equip you with all the tools needed in order for you to run a successful construction business. All members will be provided a portable device (iPad) which will be preprogrammed with a job estimator application, list of referrals, work portfolio, testimonials and additional custom context that you may require.

If your showroom currently does not offer construction services. The financial opportunities are significant. As a member of the rem0del.com RSERP you can begin immediately offering your customers these construction services without the monetary requirements of incorporating construction services in house.

In addition to the financial benefits associated with the Rem0del.com RSERP, your showroom will be enrolled into the multi industry RRP (revenue referral program) which will stimulate additional referral revenue and more important, referrals for your business. We both know referrals are the most efficient and successful means of generating new business.

Stop wasting time, money and energy on all the unnecessary independent business requirements instead of focusing on efficiently growing your business.

For more information. Please call us at 888-214-7090 or email us at showroom.rem0del@gmail.com.

Real Estate Brokers / mortgage provider:

If you are a real estate broker or mortgage provider you frequently are aware of distressed properties situations within your markets. Rem0del.com is aggressively seeking these distressed property listings and situations. Distressed property acquisitions are privately funded allowing for immediate contract and funding. If you currently have a listing or referral, please submit the property details to property.rem0del@gmail.com or call us at 888-214-7090.

General contractors:

If your an independent general contractor and can not afford all the monetary requirements that are attached to opening a showroom, equipment, staff, warehouse, insurances and all other expenses associated with the construction industry. Rem0del.com has developed the GCSCP (general contractor sub construction program). As a member of our GCSCP you can spend all your time efficiently focusing on location g and contracting new business without the time consumption and financial requirements needed to operate a construction business.

Rem0del.com will equip you with all the tools needed in order for you to run a successful business. All member will be provided a portable device (Ipad) which will be preprogrammed without job estimator, list of referrals, work portfolio, testimonials and additional custom context that you may require. Stop wasting time, money and energy on all the unnecessary independent business requirements instead of focusing on efficiently growing your business.

For more information. Please call us at 888-214-7090 or email us at GC.rem0del@gmail.com.